

UNIVERSITY OF MANCHESTER
IMAGING FACILITIES
HEALTHY VOLUNTEER REGISTRATION FORM

Dear Volunteer

Thank you for your general interest in volunteering for an imaging study at the University of Manchester.

We undertake studies that often require healthy volunteers to be scanned both by PET (Positron Emission Tomography) and MRI (Magnetic Resonance Imaging), and study teams often advertise for such volunteers.

All studies undertaken through the University of Manchester Imaging Facilities will have been approved by an Ethics Committee to ensure that both the scientific aims and methods of the study are sound and well reviewed. All the information that volunteers receive is properly vetted and all scans and personal information are kept securely to ensure strict confidentiality. The time you need to be in the scanner and what the scan actually entails will vary from study to study and all details are included in the study information sheets which will be provided to you in good time, to allow you to consider your involvement.

Depending on the study, you may need to attend more than one scanning session, and a session can take anything up to 3 hours depending on the complexity of the study and the type of scan being undertaken. For this reason, participants need to consider the time and commitment required in taking part in the studies.

Volunteers are not normally paid for their involvement with the study, but reasonable travel expenses are usually reimbursed.

Should you like to register your interest in being a healthy volunteer for an imaging study and are happy for us to pass your details onto project teams looking to recruit volunteers, please complete the form below. Project teams may contact you as studies come up, to discuss what is involved; please do not take this form as confirmation of your involvement in a study.

Many thanks for your interest.
